SPON-CO REVIEW

by

JB Bancroft, Dean, College of Arts and Architecture

September 2, 1997

I offer the following in response to Steph's request for a one-liner or two regarding my review of the company:

- Totally engaging, able to read the pulse of an audience and instantly shape their performance to stimulate involvement and identification with the performers.
- Each appearance is a wonderfully unique and impulsive work of performance art.
- A high energy feast for the comic appetite.
- An extraordinary success at our national architectural conference. Actually reinforced significant subject matter through reference in several "games" and direct impromptu participation by key conferees.
- Wonderful combination of sophisticated humor, slapstick execution, and just plain fun.
- Could probably be very nasty is prompted by the right audience. (You may not choose to use this one)

If these quotes can be of assistance in promoting Spon Co please feel free to use them at your discretion. Your group is outstanding, I plan to bring as many university administrators to your upcoming performances as possible as a marketing strategy for the theatre program. It may also inspire them to HIRE you for additional performances.

Best of luck, you have all the support I can muster.
